

BRITISH HAVE TAKEN 6,000 PRISONERS

In New Drive Which Began Wednesday Morning and Now Extends Over a Front of 25 Miles—German Losses Very Heavy.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

With the British Army on the Western Battle Front, Oct. 24.—(4:30 a. m.)—More than 6,000 prisoners were taken in the new British smash which commenced yesterday morning and gradually extended until the troops today were fighting over a front of 45,000 yards (over 25 miles).

The Germans attempted to concentrate a large force in Bois-de-Morai and northwards, but the British turned their artillery against the roads, smashing the transports. The German losses were very heavy. Many Alsations were among the prisoners taken.

Denain and other towns which the Germans are shelling are filled with civilians. Most of them are women and children.

The Germans dropped some shells on Le Cateau, killing several persons.

BRIEF REVIEW OF THE BATTLE NEWS

The British renewed their attack today on a twenty-five mile front between the sectors of the Scheldt river (or the Escaut canal as it is also known in northern France) and the canal linking up the Oise and Sambre rivers.

This front lies northeast and southeast of Cambrai and embraces the all-important region south of Valenciennes where Field Marshal Haig is driving in a northerly direction to outflank the German troops holding the line north of Valenciennes.

All of the Raimies forest, a stretch of wooded ground of vast strategic importance lying north of Valenciennes, has now been cleared of Germans. A number of villages have fallen; also.

The British have met with increased German resistance and a number of counter attacks were delivered, but all were crushed.

The Escaut river has been crossed at Beaudignies, north of Cambrai.

The British have advanced 22 miles east of Denain and are almost in Conde. The Raimies forest was the German's chief natural barrier defending Conde.

Conde is a position of much importance, owing to the large number of highways that enter the town. It is on the railway line linking up Mons, Bary and Valenciennes.

The Allied advance in Belgium has apparently slowed down with the British, French and Belgians utilizing the temporary line to link up and organize their new gains, especially the bridgehead positions.

The French are steadily extending their gains along the Serre river, northeast of Laon, but are meeting with obstinate resistance from the German rear guards.

While the fighting on the "All-American" front northwest of Verdun is not of a spectacular character, the advances that are steadily accruing are of the utmost importance.

The Americans were confronted by a number of fortified hills and woodlands which bristled with machine guns. These are falling steadily before the persistent pressure of General Pershing's gallant armies.

The Germans are employing their main arm in an effort to stem the American onrush, but the seasoned veterans have proved unequal to the occasion. The Americans have pushed northward along the Meuse river until they are nearly fourteen miles north of Verdun and are gradually approaching Dun-sur-Meuse, an important German stronghold.

On the Balkan front the Serbian successes continue unbroken. The Serbs are advancing towards the Danube by the Morava valley. In northeastern Serbia the third largest copper mine in the world has been taken from the Germans who were working it with 40,000 men.

AMERICANS GET 15 GERMAN PLANES

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 24.—American aviators yesterday shot down fifteen enemy aeroplanes and one observation balloon on both sides of the Meuse. General Pershing reported today in his communique for yesterday. Three American observation balloons were destroyed and six of our machines are missing. The text of the communique was as follows:

"October 23.—On the battle front north of Verdun we made progress at several points in the face of determined resistance. In the course of a local attack in the heavily wooded and hilly country east of the Meuse our troops took the Bois de la Meuse and penetrated the enemy's positions in the Bois d'Etrayes and the Bois de Waville, capturing over 100 prisoners. West of the Meuse, near Verdun, the battle has been completely occupied and our line has been established along the ridge northwest of the village. In the other sectors of the battle area quiet prevailed."

CORN HUSKERS NEEDED.

Last spring at planting time the farmers experienced considerable difficulty in securing seed corn that would grow. This was due partly to an unusually short growing season of last year which was followed by a very cold weather, and partly to the fact that farmers were so short of seed that they could not have their corn early enough to enable the crop to get sufficiently to withstand the severe cold weather.

Farmers are endeavoring to break their corn earlier this season and are in such a manner that it will become properly dried out before winter sets in. They are having serious difficulty however in securing help to husk the corn.

High school boys who are at home while the schools are closed could very well assist at this work. Several boys or men are needed in the neighborhood of Kingston. Good wages are offered. Parties interested should apply at the Farm Bureau office, 74 John street, Kingston, N. Y.

SPIRIT BEHIND THE COMFORT KIT

Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association. Oct. 12, 1918.

Home Defense League. Kingston, N. Y. Dear Friends:—

I received a few days ago from my brother a "comfort kit" issued by the Home Defense League of Kingston, county of Ulster.

I am now taking the liberty to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the kindness you have shown me.

As a kit it is indispensable to a soldier and I most certainly appreciate it. It not only gives comfort but it also shows that the people of Kingston, county of Ulster, have the soldier's welfare at heart.

Respectfully yours, WILLIAM H. BARRETT.

The assistant embalmers have also been laid up with the grip, and the firm is only just commencing to see its way clear. The majority of the employees have been or are laid up with the grip.

Spencer's Business School.

So many inquiries having been received as to the probable reopening of Spencer's Business School, President Kelly wishes to say that all departments of study in both day and evening school will begin just as soon as the ban is lifted on the influenza epidemic now prevailing in this city.

In other words, the sessions will start simultaneously with the other city schools. Students living outside the city will be notified by letter the exact opening date. Many new pupils will register for fall courses, and it is the plan of the school's able instructors to make up much time that has been lost. Much credit should be given to our city officials for the able manner in which the epidemic has been handled.

MACHINE GUNS FIRE ON MANNHEIM POPULACE

Several Women Killed When Military Police Fired on Crowd That Was Giving a Peace Demonstration—People Retaliate With Bombs.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Oct. 24.—"Gigantic peace demonstrations, during which the police fired upon the crowds with machine guns, killing several women, have just taken place in Mannheim, Germany," said a dispatch from The Hague to The Times today.

The series of demonstrations culminated on Friday when a procession marched to the town hall.

Machine guns were mounted around the hall and the military police opened fire upon the marchers.

In response the demonstrators threw bombs, killing some of the policemen.

So overwhelming was the rush that the police were completely swept aside.

Mannheim is a manufacturing city in Baden, having a population of 150,000. It is the third largest city on the Rhine and among the chief objects of interest there is the palace formerly occupied by the Elector Palatine. Before the war great quantities of dyestuffs were manufactured there.

INFLUENZA CASES SHOW A DECREASE

Only 33 Remain at the Emergency Hospital in the Armory—Other Hospitals Have Room for New Cases.

There have been no new cases admitted into the emergency hospital since Wednesday as the Kingston City Hospital and the Benedictine Sanitarium have been able to handle them all.

The total this morning was 33 patients, five having been sent home cured and two children being sent to the child's welfare home. These children are isolated from the others there so parents having children at the home need not worry. In the last two days four patients have died but these were expected to die as they were in a critical condition when brought in.

The hours during which the Motor Corps women are on duty are now from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. During the night this end of the work is taken care of by volunteers who have offered the use of their cars. The Automobile Club has notified the hospital that if a car is needed at any time a taxi should be called and the bills sent to the club.

A great many of the volunteers have been inoculated with the serum at the Knights of Columbus building. All preventive measures are used to stop the spread of the epidemic.

Contributions have been received of a box of candy, a box of cigars and a thousand cigarettes for the use of the workers when they are off duty.

When a patient leaves the hospital his name is given to the people in charge of the soup kitchen and he or she is supplied with broth until they are entirely well and able to be about. And when they go home a box of food is given them because in many cases the wife or mother of the patient is also ill and there is no one to get the meals.

Several of the volunteers are home sick but their places have been filled and things are going along as well as ever.

MAY OPEN CHURCHES AND CITY SCHOOLS

Health Board Met Late This Afternoon to Discuss Question—141 New Cases of Grip, Making 6,700 Cases Reported—Ambulance Calls Wednesday.

The health board held a special meeting late this afternoon to discuss the question of reopening the city schools and churches. Whatever action was taken at the meeting will be given in Friday's Freeman, as The Freeman had gone to press today before the health board met.

From what can be learned there are still fifteen teachers confined to their homes by the influenza.

The grip epidemic does not seem to show many signs of waning as yet, as 141 new cases were reported Wednesday to the health board, making a total of 6,700 cases listed.

The death rate from pneumonia is still high, although not as many deaths are being reported, and hopes are held out for the checking of the epidemic.

Every precaution should be taken to avoid the influenza, and one of the best precautions that can be taken is to visit the vaccine station in the Knights of Columbus Home on Broadway and receive an inoculation of the influenza vaccine.

The city ambulance calls Wednesday follow:

Mrs. John Flick, from 190 Broadway to Kingston City Hospital.

Ellen Mooney, from 15 Meadow street to Kingston City Hospital.

Mrs. James Hamilton, from 14 Denbigh street to Benedictine Sanitarium.

William Harnden, from 45 Gill street to Benedictine Sanitarium.

A. T. Kline, from 123 St. James street to Kingston City Hospital.

CLARK ASSIGNED TO ROUNDUP P. O.

John P. Clark, of 254 West Chestnut street, has been appointed superintendent of the Roundout station of the Kingston post office by Postmaster DeWitt, to succeed George A. Plant, deceased. Mr. Clark has been a postal clerk and letter carrier for about twenty-five years and is noted for his obliging manner and general good nature. That he will make an excellent and efficient superintendent is the good opinion of Postmaster DeWitt.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Germany will be given the actual armistice terms of the Allies. This has already been determined on by the president and the Entente premiers. An official copy of President Wilson's note of last night has been sent to every nation associated with the United States in the war. All will be invited to participate in the discussions, which will frame the armistice terms.

However, before any official action is taken the military and naval chiefs of the nations actively participating in the conflict will themselves agree on the details on which Germany and her allies will be permitted to cease fighting.

There already have been some exchanges on the subject.

The supreme war council at Versailles has taken some steps and has outlined a tentative program for guarantees. But it dealt only with some of the angles of the subject.

Any further conferences will take place in the near future at which all the military and naval phases will be debated and an agreement reached. This is made absolutely necessary, officials and diplomats here explained, by the political developments within Germany.

Officials today were well pleased with the text of President Wilson's note. Meager information reaching Washington indicated that it had made a real hit in the Allied capitals where it was crystallizing the future unified policy of all the countries at war with Germany. And officials here professed to be amazed at suggestions from certain quarters that the note needed interpretation. They declared that it spoke for itself and that no further statements dealing with its text would be issued.

The note already is in the hands of the Kaiser and his advisers. At the request of the Swiss charge it was sent by wireless last night to the big German wireless station at Nauen which sent out the original text of the German note. At the same time the official copy was put on the cables for Berlin via Bern.

Copies of the note also were sent by the state department to all the allied nations, small as well as large, and these were forwarded by copies of the complete text of all the communications exchanged to date between Washington and Berlin. This was done so that all of these nations would be able to exchange views on the armistice proposition.

The United States now will adopt a waiting attitude so far as the diplomatic phases of the situation are concerned. It is expected that eventually the military conference that is to be held to deal with the armistice proposals will report its findings to President Wilson, and that then he will, in turn, transmit them to Germany inasmuch as they would prove a chapter in sequence to his note of last night.

Indicating that he believes there will be results of sweeping importance from the president's latest note, Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, today asked Secretary Lansing to forward the committee for its study the official version of all peace notes that have been exchanged since the beginning of the war.

NO RED CROSS XMAS SEALS

The National Tuberculosis Association will not sell Red Cross Christmas seals this year, an appropriation of $2,500,000 having been made from the Red Cross funds to support the work of the association during the calendar year of 1919. This announcement was made yesterday by Ethan Allen, manager of the Atlantic division.

Through this arrangement, the necessity of staging two campaigns during the Christmas season has been avoided since the tuberculosis association has agreed to co-operate with the Red Cross in its Christmas roll call.

Each Red Cross member, however, will be awarded ten Christmas seals enclosed in a small folder which will contain educational matter regarding tuberculosis. The Red Cross war council, following a conference and letters between Henry P. Davison, its chairman, and Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, managing director of the tuberculosis association, voted to endorse the plan at its last meeting.

"We are deeply sensible to the special importance at this time of all health work," wrote Mr. Davison to Dr. Hatfield, "and particularly of the effort put forth in the prevention and cure of tuberculosis and in the education of the public thereto."

"The action of the war council is prompted by the sincere desire to insure, so far as may be, the maintenance and development of your work during the coming year, rather than to have its support contingent upon the usual sale of Christmas seals at a time when, however worthy the cause, the country is being asked to consider so many important appeals to its sympathies and resources."

"We are entering into this arrangement as a war time measure and specifically for the year 1919. We can in good time consider what will be best for succeeding years."

In replying to Mr. Davison, Dr. Hatfield stated that the arrangement was entirely satisfactory to the tuberculosis association.

"Of the men who have been sent by draft boards to camps and cantonnements, already more than 16,000 have been returned to their homes because of tuberculosis," he continued. "They and their families must be sought out and taken care of."

"All of this work must be done by civilian agencies. In view of these facts, we believe that the war council of the Red Cross has taken a step of even greater importance than the organization of the splendid Red Cross work for sufferers from tuberculosis in France and Italy. By energetic action we shall certainly avoid the terrible ravages brought upon some of the European countries by tuberculosis in time of war."

"The National Association and its affiliated organizations will throw themselves energetically into the Red Cross Christmas roll call, especially as this year the appeal for Red Cross memberships is joined with our usual Christmas tuberculosis campaign."

"Every man and woman in the country who is not in active service must be induced to enroll in the Red Cross."

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Stroller Discusses Stenographers—May Have Been Second Class Stenog But Was First Class Financier—Kindred Subjects.

Speaking of the present epidemic reminds me that in one large business house it depleted the ranks of the stenographers to such an extent that the Big Boss called to the Little Boss and said to him: "Go out and get me a first class stenographer to work until mine comes back to work." The Little Boss went forth, and he later came back empty-handed after a fruitless quest. Said he: "There are no first class stenographers to be had."

"Then get me a second hand one," roared the Big Boss.

The Little Boss again went forth and after tarrying for a while returned.

"Well, how did you make out?" asked the Big Boss.

"I interviewed a second class stenographer," replied the Little Boss, "and he agreed to come for $25 a week."

The Big Boss lay back in his chair and muttered: "Well, he may be a second class stenographer, but he is a damned first class financier."

With so much grip and influenza about Kingston I made up my mind that I would try that vaccine inoculation at the K. of C. Home and do you know the treatment is not half bad and I have felt no ill effects. The influenza is bad enough but when it comes to pneumonia—well, all I can say is I am ready to try most anything to keep pneumonia away from my happy home.

It gets monotonous hanging around the house until you have recovered sufficiently from the influenza to return to work, and that is the time a good book comes in mighty handy. Have you read Ivanhoe, Quo Vadis, Robinson Crusoe, Gulliver's Travels, The Pilgrims, Coniston, Peck's Bad Boy and a host of other old favorites? Have your wife rummage through the family library and see what she can find.

"SURRENDER" SAYS LATEST LIE WILSON TO GERMANY ABOUT Y. M. C. A.

"Nothing Can Be Gained by Leaving This Essential Thing Unsaid." Concludes the President's Latest Reply.

Following is the text of President Wilson's reply to the German peace note of October 20:

"From the Secretary of State to the Charge d'Affaires ad interim in charge of German interests in the United States:

"Department of State.
Oct. 23, 1918.

"Sir:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of the 22d transmitting a communication under date of the 20th from the German Government and to advise you that the President has instructed me to reply thereto as follows:

Having received the solemn and explicit assurance of the German Government that it unreservedly accepts the terms of peace laid down in his address to the Congress of the United States on the 8th of January, 1918, and the principles of settlement enunciated in his subsequent addresses, particularly the address of the 27th of September, and that it desires to discuss the details of their application and that this wish and purpose emanated, not from those who have hitherto conducted German policy and conducted the present war by ministers who speak for the majority of the Reichstag and for the overwhelming majority of the German peoples, and having received also the explicit promise of the present German Government that the humane rules of civilized warfare will be observed both on land and sea by the German armed forces, the President of the United States feels that he cannot decline to take up with the Governments with which the Government of the United States is associated the question of an armistice.

He deems it his duty to say again, however, that the only armistice he would feel justified in submitting for consideration would be one which should leave the United States and the Powers associated with her in a position to enforce any arrangements that may be entered into and to make a renewal of hostilities on the part of Germany impossible.

"The President has, therefore, transmitted his correspondence with the present German authorities to the Governments with which the Government of the United States is associated as a belligerent, with the suggestion that, if those Governments are disposed to effect peace upon the terms and principles indicated, their military advisers and the military advisers of the United States be asked to submit to the Governments associated against Germany the necessary terms of such an armistice as will fully protect the interests of the peoples involved, and insure to the associated Governments the unrestricted power to safeguard and enforce the details of the peace to which the German Government has agreed, provided they deem such an armistice possible from the military point of view.

"Should such terms of armistice be suggested, their acceptance by Germany will afford the best concrete evidence of her unequivocal acceptance of the terms and principles of peace from which the whole action proceeds.

"The President would deem himself lacking in candor did he not point out in the frankest possible terms the reason why extraordinary safeguards must be demanded. Significant and important as the constitutional changes seem to be which are spoken of by the German foreign secretary in his note of the twentieth of October, it does not appear that the principle of a government responsible to the German people has yet been fully worked out or that any guarantees either exist or are in contemplation that the alterations of principle and of practice now partially agreed upon will be permanent.

"Moreover, it does not appear that the heart of the present difficulty has been reached. It may be that future wars have been brought under the control of the German people, but the present war has not been, and it is with the present war that we are dealing.

"It is evident that the German people have no means of commanding the acquiescence of the military authorities of the empire in the popular will, that the power of the king of Prussia to control the policy of the empire is unimpaired, that the determining initiative still remains with those who have hitherto been the masters of Germany.

"Feeling that the whole peace of the world depends now on plain speaking and straightforward action, the President deems it his duty to say, without any attempt to soften what may seem harsh words, that the nations of the world do not and cannot trust the word of those who have hitherto been the masters of German policy, and to point out once more that, in concluding peace and attempting to undo the infinite injuries and injustices of this war, the government of the United States cannot deal with any but veritable representatives of the German people who have been assured of a genuine constitutional standing as the real rulers of Germany.

"If it must deal with the military masters and the monarchical authorities of Germany now, or if it is likely to have to deal with them later in regard to the international obligations of the German empire, it must demand, not peace negotiations, but surrender. Nothing can be gained by leaving this essential thing unsaid."

"Accept, sir, the renewed assurance of my high consideration, signed by ROBERT LANSING, Mr. Frederick Goettlich, Charge d'Affaires of Switzerland, ad interim, in charge of German interests in the United States."

Daily Thought.

The subject said the best contentment lies in the heart.

To the Editor of The Evening Sun:

Sir:—"The Lie Nailer" deserves to hear the hammer fall heavily for the invented stories concerning the price of articles and commodities furnished by the Y. M. C. A. with the A. E. F. abroad. Only too well do I know the propaganda is rife. I've nailed several.

Recently I received a batch of letters from my nephew in France with the base hospital. In France also, and each and every letter tells of all the wonderful comforts he has; how well taken of by the greatest nation on earth; how the Y. M. C. A. near the base hospital sells tobacco, tooth brushes, paste, candles and everything necessary for the soldiers "at prices less than they paid in New York." Remarkable, and he said, the food is great; plenty of it; that they get all the smokes they want, and often divide their Murads with the wounded, and not to send anything more, since everything can be purchased there reasonably. That our dear government furnished them with Durham frequently and that everybody is so kind; that he has grown stouter, and looks very well and contented. I would like everybody to know how happy we are that our own boys are contented and their welfare looked after by the Y. M. C. A. and all institutions concerned in this greatest of wars.

If I could publish his letters (there are too many) they would soon convince some of these "doubting Thomases" of the worth of the activities of the Y. M. C. A.

The Church For Worship.

Rev. A. L. Hughes, 27 Janson avenue, pastor of the Saint Mark's A. M. E. Church, Foxhall avenue, writes as follows:

To the Editor of the Kingston Daily Freeman:

Sir, from time immemorial there has always been a priesthood or clergy to call the people together in holy communion to give praise and adoration to Jehovah, from whom all blessings, both spiritual and temporal, flow. The church is the appointed place to worship where God has promised to meet his people. It is true that men can pray at their daily occupation, but the church they meet together in consecrated effort, around the common mercy seat, in one common cause against one common enemy. Epidemic influenza is the great enemy of the people, who have come under its dreadful touch.

If there ever was a time when the praying people of God should assemble together it is now, and ask His blessing upon the lives of those who have come under the grip of its deadly sway. The drastic order to close the churches caused much comment from those who have explicit faith and confidence in God, who alone has power to heal, and stop any kind of plague, when all other human agencies fail. "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." Since closing the churches would not necessarily stop the plague, surely keeping them open would not add to its ravages. Generally the best people of a community are the people that go to church, and wait on God in His sanctuary, for by hearing from the minister, the ambassador of God, what God requires of them out of His word, their aims and ideals of life are higher than the people who never go to church, or attend on God's holy word. The church sets forth Jesus Christ, the ideal of perfect character. The crowds that gather in the churches, eager to hear Him out of His word, are far more sanitary than the miscellaneous crowds that gather in bar rooms, pool rooms and other places of carnal amusements, for out of God's word in the church we are taught the sanitary principles of religion. "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you." "If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are." (Cor. 3:16-17.) "Keep thyself pure." (1 Tim. 5:22.) Leaving the saloons, pool rooms open puts the church, the sanctuary of God, who purchased it with His blood on the cross, beneath the saloons and pool rooms.

Describing Him.

"That feller is such a fool," commented the gaunt Missourian, "that I reckon likely when he was a baby his maw used to hold him by the ankles and tote him around with his head hanging down like a chicken."—Kansas City Star.

WAR CHEST HEADS HAVE ORGANIZED

Plans Being Made For One Big Campaign to Cover All War Work Funds For One Year.

The incorporators of the War Chest for the county met at Judge Hasbrouck's chambers in the court house Wednesday afternoon and elected the following officers: Mayor Palmer Canfield, Jr., president; Martin Cantline of Saugerties and Dwight Divine of Ellenville, vice presidents; John E. Mahar, treasurer; and Harry P. Dodge, secretary.

The incorporators are Judge Hasbrouck, Edward Coykendall, John D. Schoonmaker, Mayor Canfield, Frank R. Powley, Martin Cantline, Saugerties, John E. Mahar, Ralph R. Whitehead, Woodstock, Joseph M. Herbert, Harcourt Pratt, Highland, Sam Bernstein, the Hon. Frank J. LeFevre, New Paltz, Dwight Divine, Ellenville, Harry P. Dodge, William O. Schwarzwelder, Chichester, Robert M. Rowlands, Milton, and B. S. Galloway, Wallkill.

The certificate of incorporation was approved and by-laws were adopted. The name of the organization is the "Ulster County War Chest Association, Inc." John D. Schoonmaker, Edward Coykendall and Harcourt Pratt were named as a committee to select the executive committee. The committee named John E. Mahar, Frank R. Powley, Joseph M. Herbert, William J. Turck, Martin Cantline and Harcourt Pratt.

The purpose of the association is to consolidate all drives in the county into one big drive. There will be a national drive during the week of November 11 to include the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., K. of C. Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association and Salvation Army. The War Chest drive will include these organizations and also the Red Cross and all local county war working and welfare associations. Payments can be made in one lump sum, or quarterly or monthly or weekly.

The executive committee will meet on Friday night and appoint sub-committees. As the time is short it will be necessary for the workers to speed up to cover the necessary preliminary work. The advantages of the War Chest are:

First.—Equalizing of Burden. A single campaign can be made so thorough as to reach the whole body of citizens so that all will be given a chance to contribute and the placing of an unjust burden upon a few will be avoided as far as possible.

Second. Minimum of Effort. The time of organizers and solicitors of funds, and of the subscribers can be economized by concentrating on a single effort.

Third. Apportionment of the proceeds deliberately, after study, and upon a careful plan, among the various objects.

The board of directors will have charge of the disbursement of the funds and all applications will have to be made to it. The executive committee will have charge of the campaign and the soliciting and collection of the moneys. The president is ex officio a member of all committees.

The purposes of the organization as set forth in the certificate of incorporation and the by-laws are as follows:

To solicit and receive contributions from individuals, firms, associations, corporations and others, and especially from those from the county of Ulster, New York, and to utilize such contributions with the dues of its members for the following purposes:

"1. For the aid and comfort of soldiers, marines and sailors of the United States or any country allied with the United States in the present war.

"2. For the relief of sufferers from the war, in which the United States is now engaged, and their dependents.

"3. For the equipment of ambulances, hospitals, and auxiliary units of any description for use in such war.

"4. For any other similar or related lawful purpose incident to the war.

"5. For the aid and assistance of any war welfare agency.

"6. For the aid and assistance of any local war or welfare agency located in the county of Ulster, New York.

"7. Any of said purposes may be carried out either directly or by contribution to other agencies organized for the same or similar purposes; and in connection with any national war work or war welfare organization recognized by the United States government, such as the Red Cross, Young Men's Christian Association, Young Women's Christian Association, National Catholic War Council, Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association, and Salvation Army the contribution may be made direct for at least the amount allotted and apportioned to be raised in said county for the purposes of any such organization or organizations."

Every one will be given the chance to display their degree of patriotism and their interest in our boys in the service during the week of November 11th. Prepare for it by making up your mind to give each month or each week doing your limit and a little more. The boys are watching.

A SONG OF FREEDOM.

In the thunder of the captains, In the shout of victory, In the sighing of the ripple of the flood that is to be, In the zephyr from the wilderness, that beats beyond the sea, Is the sure and certain prophecy that mankind must be free.

The heart of every evil thing, seeds of its ruin bear, So shall oppression die before thy face, oh freedom fair, Henceforth thou hast no country, thy home is everywhere.

And so shall men through all the world, What thou hast died for, we will keep, what ere befalls.

—Alan Mackenzie.

'Hard of Thanks.

I desire to express my heartfelt thanks to the many friends and relatives for each act of kindness shown at the time of the loss of my dear sister, Hazel.
